

ABOUT THE AUTHORS AND EDITORS

---

Brittany Benavidez is an associate with Perkins Coie LLP in Seattle. Ms. Benavidez’s practice focuses on internal investigations, regulatory enforcement, white collar defense, and complex commercial litigation. Ms. Benavidez received her J.D. from Cornell Law School and her B.A. from California State University, Long Beach.

Heidi Bradley is a founding partner of Bradley Bernstein Sands LLP. Her practice focuses on complex litigation in state and federal courts, including significant work defending public and private companies, directors and officers, and financial institutions in securities and related matters. She practiced at Sullivan & Cromwell in Los Angeles and then chaired the litigation team at Lane Powell before launching her own west coast litigation boutique in 2020. Ms. Bradley earned her law degree from Stanford Law School in 2004.

Joseph E. Bringman is a senior counsel with Perkins Coie LLP in Seattle. Mr. Bringman practices in the firm’s Commercial Litigation group, with primary emphasis on representation of corporations, directors, and officers in securities and corporate governance litigation and representation of both defendants and plaintiffs in other complex commercial litigation. A former acting assistant professor at the University of Washington School of Law and a former president of the King County Bar Association, Mr. Bringman is a graduate of Yale University (B.A., Political Science, 1980) and the Stanford Law School (J.D., 1983).

Matthew A. Carvalho is a commercial litigator with a solo practice emphasizing the representation of owners, directors, and officers in securities and corporate governance litigation and investigations. He has represented individual and corporate clients at trial and on appeal in a wide range of cases, including federal and state securities litigation, shareholder derivative actions, dissenters’ rights proceedings, dissolution/business divorce disputes, and investigations by the SEC and the Washington State Department of Financial Institutions. He served as a law clerk to the Hon. Robert S. Lasnik, United States District Judge for the Western District of Washington. He received his J.D. from Columbia Law School, where he was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar, and his B.A. from Brown University.

Zachary E. Davison is a partner with Perkins Coie LLP in Seattle. He focuses his practice on derivative, securities, corporate governance, and real estate disputes. Before joining Perkins Coie LLP, Mr. Davison clerked on the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington.

Daniel J. Dunne is a partner with Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP. For 35 years, he has advised and represented clients in securities and shareholder suits, internal investigations, regulatory proceedings, and complex litigation requiring tenacity, experience and innovation. His client roster includes blue chip corporations and financial institutions, as well as company directors, officers, and accountants. He has enjoyed considerable success in high-profile national matters from coast to coast, from the Delaware Court of Chancery to New York Supreme Court to the Washington Supreme Court, where he argued an issue of first impression under the Washington State Securities Act. Mr. Dunne maintains an active docket advising Washington’s most sophisticated legal clients with respect to their most sensitive and important regulatory, securities, and shareholder matters. He obtained his B.A. and his J.D. from the University of Virginia and served as a law clerk to the Hon. John C. Coughenour in the Western District of Washington.

Christopher B. Durbin is Of Counsel in the Seattle office of Cooley LLP and a member of the firm’s Securities Litigation + Enforcement Practice Group. His practice focuses on the representation of companies and their officers and directors in securities class actions and shareholder derivative litigation, as well as internal and regulatory investigations. He received his J.D. from the University of Washington School of Law in 2001 and his B.A. from Gonzaga University in 1997.

Patty A. Eakes is managing partner of the Seattle office of Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP, with a wide-ranging litigation practice that includes complex commercial, employment, and white collar criminal matters. A fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, she has defended civil and criminal securities fraud cases through trial. Before entering private practice, she was a senior prosecutor in the civil and criminal divisions of the King County Prosecuting Attorney's office, where she prosecuted numerous high-profile cases. She received her J.D. and her B.A. from the University of Washington.

Alison J.W. Epperson is an associate in the New York office of Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP. She is a member of the White Collar Investigations and Trade Compliance practice group, as well as the Securities Litigation & Regulatory Enforcement practice group. Her practice focuses on criminal defense of individuals and corporations in anti-corruption, anti-bribery, regulatory, and trade matters across the globe with a focus on the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and other anti-corruption laws and regulations. She earned her J.D. from Case Western Reserve University and her B.A. from Centre College.

William J. Foley is a partner in the New York office of Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP and a member of the firm's Securities Litigation & Regulatory Enforcement practice group. His practice focuses on the representation of financial institutions, investment advisors, and other public and privately held companies in corporate and securities litigation, and other complex business litigation matters.

David Freeburg is Of Counsel in the Seattle office of DLA Piper LLP (US). His practice focuses on defense of securities, M&A, and financial services litigation, cross-border matters, and other complex commercial disputes. He earned his J.D., cum laude, from the Georgetown University Law Center, along with B.S. and B.A. degrees, magna cum laude, from Gonzaga University.

Gabrielle Hanna In memoriam, 1992–2022.

Angie Jones defends companies and individuals in government and internal investigations, with a focus on anti-bribery and corruption, False Claims Act (FCA), and fraud and anti-kickback matters. She has represented clients in investigations involving activity around the world. She has defended clients in government investigations and litigation conducted by such agencies as the U.S. Department of Justice, U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Financial Institutions Regulatory Authority. In addition to managing and leading complex investigations, she maintains an active litigation practice and counsels clients on the creation, implementation, and continual improvement of corporate compliance programs.

James A. Kilcup is an associate at the Seattle office of Perkins Coie LLP. His practice is focused on securities litigation and corporate governance disputes. Mr. Kilcup is a graduate of the University of Chicago Law School (J.D.) and Seattle University (B.A.)

Sean Knowles is a partner with Perkins Coie LLP in Seattle, where his practice focuses on securities and corporate governance litigation. Mr. Knowles regularly represents clients in securities class actions, shareholder derivative lawsuits, merger and acquisition litigation, and corporate governance disputes. He has also represented numerous clients defending claims under the Washington State Securities Act. Mr. Knowles received his J.D. from Columbia University School of Law and his A.B. from Brown University.

Timothy G. Leyh is the Managing Partner of the Seattle firm Harrigan Leyh Farmer Thomsen. His practice focuses on complex civil litigation and trials in state and federal courts. He is a Fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers. He earned his J.D., cum laude, from the University of Michigan in 1984 and his BBA, with distinction, from the University of Michigan in 1980.

Jeffrey L. Lombard is Of Counsel in the Palo Alto office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP and a member of the firm's Securities Litigation Practice Group. His practice focuses on the representation of companies and their officers and directors in securities class actions, merger and acquisition disputes, and shareholder derivative litigation. He graduated summa cum laude from Santa Clara University School of Law in 2012. He received his Bachelor of Science from Santa Clara University in 2008, where he served as captain of the school's Division 1 baseball team.

Reagan Lynch is a former Counsel at Perkins Coie LLP in Seattle. His practice focused on white-collar matters, including internal investigations, government enforcement actions, and advice on the design and implementation of corporate compliance programs.

Claire Martirosian is a partner at McNaul Ebel Nawrot & Helgren PLLC. She is a member of the Litigation and Trial Practice group. Her practice focuses on complex business and shareholder disputes, securities litigation, and contract disputes in federal and state courts. She earned her J.D. from New York University School of Law in 2010 and her B.A., with distinction, from the University of Virginia in 2005.

Bryn R. Pallesen is a senior associate with Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP. Her practice focuses on antitrust and other complex litigation. She obtained her B.A., with distinction, from Amherst College and her J.D., cum laude, from the University of Michigan. Prior to joining Orrick, Ms. Pallesen served as a law clerk to the Hon. Timothy M. Burgess in the District of Alaska and to the Hon. Sara L. Darrow in the Central District of Illinois.

James P. Savitt is a partner in the Seattle litigation firm Savitt Bruce & Willey LLP. He earned his J.D., magna cum laude, from the Georgetown University Law Center in 1983 and his B.A. from Cornell University in 1980. He served as chairman and as councilmember of the Pike Place Market Preservation & Development Authority, which owns and operates Seattle's famed Pike Place Market, and is a past president of the Federal Bar Association of the Western District of Washington. Mr. Savitt began his career at Paul Weiss Rifkind Wharton & Garrison in New York and, before founding SBW, was a partner in Perkins Coie in Seattle.

Tyre L. Tindall is an associate at Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, where his practice focuses on securities class actions in both state and federal courts, shareholder derivative actions, corporate governance matters, and SEC and internal investigations.

Anthony Todaro is a partner in the Seattle office of DLA Piper LLP (US). He is a litigation practice group leader for the office. His practice focuses on defense of class action matters, consumer protection, products liability, insurance coverage, and wage and hour matters. He earned his J.D. from the Northwestern University School of Law and his B.A., with distinction, from Columbia University.

Gregory L. Watts is a partner at Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati where he specializes in counseling and defending companies and their directors and officers in securities class actions, shareholder derivative actions, contested mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance matters, and SEC investigations and enforcement proceedings across the country. A frequent speaker and lecturer on shareholder litigation, he is the co-author of Director and Officer Liability (PLI 3d ed. 2022).

Robin Wechkin is counsel at Sidley Austin and has practiced securities and shareholder litigation for nearly 30 years. She is the principal author of Sidley Austin's annual publication, Securities Class Actions in the Life Sciences Sector, now in its tenth year. She earned a B.A. in English from Cornell University in 1984, a Ph.D. in English from Berkeley in 1989, and a J.D. from Berkeley Law in 1992 (Order of the Coif).