Louisiana Practitioner Rules for Citation to Legal Authorities

Louisiana has no single source of citation rules to govern citation in practitioner and court documents. Thus, different citation formats are available for citing to Louisiana authorities in these documents. Each format may be grounded in part by some citation authority be it the Louisiana Law Review Streamlined Citation Manual (SCM), The Bluebook, the ALWD Guide to Legal Citation, court rules, or local court custom, which custom often varies from judge to judge.

The SCM provides rules for scholarly submissions to the Louisiana Law Review; thus, it is not aimed at the Louisiana legal practitioner. It defaults to The Bluebook for matters not addressed in the SCM. Similarly, The Bluebook is targeted at scholarly writing, not at practice-based writing; however, the current 20th edition is designed to be more user friendly for the legal practitioner. The Bluebook is divided into two main sections. The first section, the Bluepages, contains rules governing citations in practitioner documents. The second section contains The Bluebook rules governing citations in academic publications. The ALWD, currently in its sixth edition, applies to ALL forms of legal writing, practice-based and scholarly writing. ALWD identifies any changes that scholarly writing requires. Therefore, it is organized by legal source, rather than by type of publication. However, neither The Bluebook nor ALWD adequately fill the void for the Louisiana practitioner, as neither addresses Louisiana's body of jurisprudence, or its codal and statutory provisions, with adequate detail or in accordance with Louisiana court custom.

Additionally, there is a Louisiana Supreme Court rule governing citation of post-1993 Louisiana appellate court decisions in documents submitted to Louisiana courts. La. Sup. Ct. Gen. Admin. R. § 8. However, the rule is very brief in substance, and it provides few examples. Moreover, some aspects of the format used in the supreme court rule's examples are not followed by the appellate court justices and judges when citing to Louisiana appellate court opinions in their own decisions. Thus, there are variations in court custom regarding the application of this supreme court citation rule.

Clearly, there is a need for consistency and uniformity in the manner in which legal authorities should be cited by the Louisiana practitioner in court documents. Consequently, these Louisiana practitioner citation rules are intended to simplify the citation of Louisiana authorities in practitioner and court documents. They reflect Louisiana court rules as well as court custom where those rules or the custom differ from The Bluebook and ALWD. When these Louisiana practitioner citation rules are silent, the user should defer to The Bluebook for the applicable citation principles.

For a deeper understanding, sidebars to these practitioner rules provide information about the sources of the particular citation format suggested by these practitioner rules. Additionally, these sidebars sometimes explain how the citation form would differ based on other citation sources. These particular rules were created relying first on Louisiana court rules and custom, and then on the principles underlying The Bluebook or ALWD.

RULE 1: LOUISIANA APPELLATE COURT DECISIONS

Rule 1.1 Louisiana Supreme Court and Courts of Appeal Opinions and Actions Issued BEFORE January 1, 1994

The full citation to these authorities consists of the following:

Case name, •reporter volume•reporter•initial page, •pincite page if necessary•(court•year), •subsequent history if applicable.

Examples of citation to Louisiana Supreme Court decisions issued before January 1, 1994:

Rosell v. ESCO, 549 So. 2d 840, 842 (La. 1989).

Bazley v. Tortorich, 397 So. 2d 475, 482 (La. 1981).

Sidebar 1.1 The above format for citing to Louisiana Supreme Court cases is consistent with the SCM, The Bluebook, and ALWD.

Examples of citation to Louisiana Courts of Appeal decisions issued before January 1, 1994:

Armstead v. Boh Bros. Constr. Co., 609 So. 2d 965, 967 (La. App. 4th Cir. 1992).

Barnett v. Jabusch, 607 So. 2d 1007, 1008-09 (La. App. 3d Cir. 1992), writ denied, 610 So. 2d 820 (La. 1993).

1.1(a) Case Name

Not all parties are included in the case name portion of a citation. Follow the rules of The Bluebook and/or ALWD for formulating a case name in a citation. Note that the use of abbreviations in a case name depends on whether the citation is in a citation sentence or a textual reference. Abbreviations of words set forth in Bluebook table 1.3 or ALWD appendix 3(E) are required in citation sentences and are restricted in textual references.

1.1(b) Reporter Volume

The volume of the reporter in which the cited case is published follows the case name part of a citation.

1.1(c) Reporter Abbreviation

The Southern Reporter, Second Series is abbreviated as So. 2d.

Sidebar 1.2 Court custom varies on the spacing in the abbreviation of the Southern Reporter, with some judges using So. 2d and others using So.2d as the abbreviation. However, the general spacing rules found in both Bluebook rule 6.1(a) and ALWD rule 2.2(b) and (c) require a space between So. and 2d. To keep the So. and 2d (or 3d) on the same line, use a “linked” space by initially typing the reporter abbreviation without a space, putting the cursor between the So. and 2d, and then hitting shift+ctrl+space bar.

1.1(d) Initial Page Number

The page number in a citation is to the initial page of the decision in the Southern Reporter. It is followed by a comma ONLY if a pincite is necessary.

1.1(e) Pincite, if Necessary

A pincite identifies the particular page(s) of the cited case on which the proposition or information for which the case has been cited in the legal document can be found. A pincite is not needed where the cited case is being referred to generally. A pincite helps the reader locate the proposition or information in the cited case. If a pincite is necessary, the pincite follows the initial page number of the case, separated by a comma and a space. If a pincite references material on consecutive pages, indicate the page numbers by including the first page of the pincite followed by a hyphen and the last page of the pincite. Two digits are always retained, but other repetitive digits are dropped.

1.1(f) Court Identifier

The deciding court is identified in the court-and-year parenthetical of the citation. The Louisiana Supreme Court is abbreviated in this parenthetical as “La.” The Louisiana Courts of Appeal are abbreviated as “La. App.” Additionally, the circuit of the deciding court of appeal is indicated in the parenthetical using an ordinal contraction and “Cir.”

Examples of court abbreviations in the court-and-year parenthetical:

La.

La. App. 1st Cir.

La. App. 2d Cir.

La. App. 3d Cir.

La. App. 4th Cir.

La. App. 5th Cir.

Sidebar 1.3 The court of appeal parenthetical information format used above is consistent with court custom. Minor changes would occur if it was based on the SCM, The Bluebook, or ALWD (La. Ct. App.), but this would NOT accurately reflect court custom in Louisiana. Contrary to table 1.3 of The Bluebook and rule 12.6(c)(4) of ALWD, in Louisiana, it is customary to indicate the circuit of the deciding appellate court. It is also customary to omit the abbreviation of the word “court” in the court-and-year parenthetical. The ordinal contractions (1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th) used are consistent with the SCM, The Bluebook, and ALWD. Do NOT put only the numeral (1, 2, 3, 4, 5) to refer to the different circuits of the Louisiana Courts of Appeal. Thus, use “(La. App. 3d Cir.),” not “(La. App. 3 Cir.)” Use the spacing rules located in Bluebook rule 6 and ALWD rule 2.2.

1.1(g) Date of Decision

In a citation to a published Louisiana appellate court decision issued before January 1, 1994, the date of decision includes only the year in which the case was decided. This year appears in the court-and-year parenthetical after the court identifier.

1.1(h) Subsequent History

Relevant subsequent history about a cited case is included in a full citation. Follow The Bluebook or ALWD for what to include in the placement of the subsequent history with the following two exceptions regarding denials of certiorari.

Pursuant to court custom in Louisiana, use writ denied and NOT cert. denied to indicate the denial of a writ of certiorari. Also, contrary to Bluebook rule 10.7 and ALWD sidebar 12.5, in Louisiana, ALWAYS include a writ of certiorari denial as subsequent history, even if the cited authority is more than two years old. This conflicts with The Bluebook and ALWD; however, these practitioner rules require inclusion of all writ denials in the subsequent history.

Example of full citation to Louisiana decision issued before January 1, 1994, with subsequent history taking place in different year than year in which cited case was decided:

Talley v. Enserch Corp., 589 So. 2d 615 (La. App. 3d Cir. 1991), writ denied, 592 So. 2d 1342 (La. 1992).

Omit the year in the first parenthetical when the subsequent history occurred in the same year.

Example of full citation to Louisiana decision issued before January 1, 1994, with subsequent history taking place in same year in which cited case was decided:

Goodwin v. Goodwin, 618 So. 2d 579, 583 (La. App. 2d Cir.), writ denied, 623 So. 2d 1340 (La. 1983).

Rule 1.2 Louisiana Supreme Court and Courts of Appeal Opinions and Actions Issued AFTER December 31, 1993

The full citation in court documents to appellate court authorities issued after December 31, 1993, is governed by a Louisiana Supreme Court rule. La. Sup. Ct. Gen. Admin. R. § 8(A)(1). This rule requires citations to Louisiana Supreme Court and Courts of Appeal opinions and actions issued after December 31, 1993, according to a uniform public-domain-citation format, with a parallel citation to West's Southern Reporter. Id. § 8(A)(1)(a). Note that this public-domain-citation rule does not apply to federal cases or to cases from courts outside of the State of Louisiana, even when those cases are cited within Louisiana court documents.

The components of the uniform public-domain-citation form are the case name, docket number excluding letters, court abbreviation, and month/day/year of issue. Id. The components of the parallel citation to West's Southern Reporter consist of the West reporter volume, abbreviation to the Southern Reporter, and initial page of the decision in the reporter. Where a pincite is necessary, the rule requires it to follow the docket number in the form of p. followed by the page number designated by the court (slip opinion page number). A parallel pincite to West's Southern Reporter may also be included. Id. § 8(A)(1)(b). Thus, this citation format consists of the following:

Case name, •docket number extract, •p. •pincite to slip opinion if necessary •(court and complete date), •reporter volume •reporter •initial page, •pincite to Southern Reporter if necessary, •subsequent history if necessary.

Examples of full public-domain-form citation to published Louisiana Supreme Court decisions issued after December 31, 1993:

City of New Orleans v. Bd. of Comm'rs, 93-690 (La. 7/5/94), 640 So. 2d 237.

Veroline v. Priority One EMS, 09-1040, p. 2 n. 1 (La. 10/9/09), 18 So. 3d 1273, 1274 n. 1.

Examples of full public-domain-form citation to published Louisiana Courts of Appeal decisions issued after December 31, 1993:

Herff Jones, Inc. v. Girouard, 07-393, p. 2 (La. App. 3d Cir. 10/3/07), 966 So. 2d 1127, 1130, writs denied, 07-2463, 2464 (La. 2/15/08), 976 So. 2d 185.

Ruttley v. Lee, 99-1130, p. 1 (La. App. 5th Cir. 5/17/00), 761 So. 2d 777, 780, writ denied, 00-1781 (La. 9/22/00), 768 So. 2d 1287.

1.2(a) Case Name

See the rules of The Bluebook and/or ALWD for formulating a case name in a citation.

1.2(b) Docket Number

In a public-domain-citation format, the case name is followed by extracts from the docket number assigned to the case by the deciding court. The complete docket number generally consists of a year (indicating the year of filing), letters (identifying the nature of the action being sought such as CA for Civil Appeal, KA for Criminal Appeal, or CW or KW for Civil or Criminal Writ), and a number reflecting the filing order of the action. In the public domain format, the docket number extract consists of the last two digits of the year followed by a hyphen/en-dash and the filing order digits of the docket number. Thus, in the docket number extract part of a public domain citation, the letters are dropped from the docket number, leaving only the year, a hyphen/en-dash, and the filing order number. See Sup. Ct. Gen. Admin. R. § 8(A)(1)(a). Thus, docket number 2004-CA-1580 becomes “04-1580” and docket number 1999-KA-2348 becomes “99-2348.” Additionally, zeroes that compose the first digits of the filing order part of the docket number are excluded as they are merely operating as place holders in the courts’ docketing systems. Thus, docket number 1998-CA-0030 becomes “98-30” pursuant to this practitioner rule; this aspect of the rule is based on court custom.

One exception to the general form of docket numbers exists in the Louisiana Second Circuit Court of Appeal. Its docket number system is different, so for cases from the Second Circuit, the docket number will be a number without a year and dash. Consequently, “33,328” exemplifies a docket number from the Second Circuit. Note that the Second Circuit docket number does NOT use a dash or hyphen in it.

Example of public-domain-form full citation to a published Louisiana Second Circuit Court of Appeal decision issued after December 31, 1993:

Campbell v. Webster Parish Police Jury, 36,391, 36,392, p. 8 (La. App. 2d Cir. 9/18/02), 828 So. 2d 170, 175.

If a case has more than one docket number, do not repeat the year portion of the second docket number if it is the same as the first. Also, repeat only the filing order aspect of the second docket number, and separate the two numbers with a comma and a space. Thus, 2010-CA-5847 and 2010-CA-5849 become 10-5847, 5849. If the years differ, also repeat the year. Thus, 1998-KW-0335 and 1999-KW-0003 become 98-335, 99-3. Indicate a span of multiple, consecutive docket numbers with “to.” Ex. 17-345 to 350.

Sidebar 1.4 The section 8 rule’s examples are to a decision with a docket number in the 1990s, and these examples use a two-digit year format. Per court custom, some judges include a four-digit year in the docket number portion of the citation; others include a two-digit year when the docket number originated in the 1990s and a four-digit year when the docket number originated in the 2000s; others use a two-digit year for all docket numbers. For consistency, these rules require a two-digit year for all docket numbers.

1.2(c) Page Number

The page number in the public domain part of the citation is only included if a pincite is necessary. This is because a slip opinion always begins on page one. When a pincite to the slip opinion is necessary, the abbreviation “p.” follows the comma that is located immediately after the docket number extract. Then, the slip opinion pincite follows the blank space after the “p.” abbreviation.

For consistency with the custom of including a space between the “p.” and the actual page number of the slip opinion, also include a space between the “n.” and the actual footnote number when citing to matter located in a footnote. The “n. 3” follows the “p. 3” in the public domain part of the citation and also follows the reporter pincite page in the West reporter part of the citation.

Sidebar 1.5 The section 8 rule’s example includes a space between the “p.” and the pincite to the slip opinion, as do The Bluebook examples. Unfortunately, ALWD does not provide a specific Louisiana example in public-domain-citation form. However, when it provides examples of pincites to slip opinions, it uses the format “slip op. at ____.”

1.2(d) Court Identifier

The deciding court is identified in an abbreviated manner in the court-and-date parenthetical. The court abbreviation consists of La. when referencing the Louisiana Supreme Court. When referencing a Louisiana intermediate appellate court, the court abbreviation consists of (1) “La. App.” followed by the ordinal contraction for the particular circuit and (2) “Cir.”

Sidebar 1.6 The examples provided in the section 8 rule contain numerals to indicate the particular circuit (1, 2, 3, 4, 5) instead of ordinal contractions (1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th). While the rule requires the public-domain-citation form to include “court abbreviation[s],” it does not mandate the specific type of abbreviation. Neither The Bluebook, nor ALWD utilize a plain Arabic number as part of a court abbreviation. Court custom uses an ordinal contraction more often than it uses a plain Arabic number. Thus, these practitioner rules require the use of ordinal contractions in the public-domain-citation form.

See sidebar 1.3 of these practitioner rules for more information on the court abbreviation, but note that court custom requires identification of the deciding circuit in the court parenthetical.

1.2(e) Date

The date in the parenthetical consists of the month, date, and last two digits of the year of the court’s decision. This is in numeric form, separated by backslashes. Omit placeholder zeros.

1.2(f) Parallel Citation to West’s Southern Reporter

The parallel citation to West’s Southern Reporter consists of the reporter volume, reporter abbreviation, and initial page number, followed by a pincite if necessary. This parallel citation follows the court-and-date parenthetical and is separated from the public domain portion of the citation with a comma. The reporter is abbreviated as So. 2d for the Southern Reporter, Second Series and So. 3d for the Southern Reporter, Third Series. The page number in the parallel citation part of the citation is to the initial page of the decision in the Southern Reporter. If a pincite is necessary, the parallel pincite follows the initial page number, separated by a comma and a space.

Sidebar 1.7 The May 17, 2022 amendment to the section 8 rule’s example now reflects the use of a comma (instead of the previously reflected semicolon) to separate the public domain form of the citation from the parallel citation to West’s Southern Reporter. The comma is the appropriate separating punctuation because the language of the rule simply requires inclusion of a parallel citation and because commas are the appropriate punctuation to separate parallel citations to the same authority per The Bluebook and ALWD. Semicolons are used to separate different authorities from one another. These practitioner rules have always required a comma instead of a semicolon, aligning with the punctuation used by many Louisiana judges in their published opinions. The example part of section 8, as amended, now matches the LPRC regarding the comma as the separating punctuation.

However, the example still reflects no spacing in the abbreviation for the Southern Reporter. In contrast, the LPRC requires a space between “So.” and “2d.”

See sidebar 1.2 of these practitioner rules for more information on the abbreviation of the Southern Reporter, including using a linked space to keep the full abbreviation on the same line.

1.2(g) Subsequent History

When providing subsequent history, the subsequent history citation must also be in public domain form if the subsequent history was issued after December 31, 1993. Pursuant to court custom in Louisiana, use writ denied and NOT cert. denied to indicate the denial of a writ of certiorari. Additionally, pursuant to court custom in Louisiana, ALWAYS include writ of certiorari denials as subsequent history, even if they are more than two years old. This conflicts with The Bluebook and ALWD; however, these practitioner rules require inclusion of all writ denials in the subsequent history.

Example of full citation to Louisiana appellate court decisions issued after December 31, 1993, with subsequent history that occurred after December 31, 1993:

Smith v. Jitney Jungle of Am., 35,100, p. 6 (La. App. 2d Cir. 12/5/01), 802 So. 2d 988, 992, writ denied, 02-39 (La. 3/15/02), 811 So. 2d 913.

If the cited authority was decided before 1994, and the subsequent history occurred after 1993, the subsequent history must follow the public-domain-citation format.

Example of full citation to Louisiana appellate court decisions issued before January 1, 1994, with subsequent history that occurred after December 31, 1993:

Kennedy v. St. Charles Gen. Hosp. Auxiliary, 630 So. 2d 888 (La. App. 4th Cir. 1993), writ denied, 94-269 (La. 3/18/94), 634 So. 2d 863.

Rule 1.3 Cases Decided by the Louisiana Supreme Court Before 1972

Cases decided by the Louisiana Supreme Court before 1972 appeared in the official Louisiana Reports. Thus, citations to these cases include a citation to the Louisiana Reports, followed by a parallel citation to the Southern Reporter. La. Sup. Ct. Gen. Admin. R. § 8(A)(3)(a).

Example of full citation to case decided by Louisiana Supreme Court before 1972:

Blanchard v. Ogima, 253 La. 34, 215 So. 2d 902 (1968).

Rule 1.4 Short Form Citations to Published Louisiana Cases

There is no difference regarding how to compose a short form citation to cases decided in Louisiana before or after December 31, 1993. Section 8 does not address short form citations in Louisiana’s public domain format, nor does the SCM, The Bluebook, or ALWD. Court custom varies, but typically, it does not include the public domain information in the short form. Thus, while some judges include a shortened version of the neutral public domain form with the shortened parallel citation to the Southern Reporter, most judges use the short form version that excludes the neutral public domain form.

Pursuant to this practitioner rule, short form citations to cases governed by the public-domain-citation rule need only include a citation to the West reporter. Thus, a public-domain-citation form is not required where a short form citation is appropriate.

Clearly, if id. is appropriate as a short form, use it. If id. is not appropriate, then the proper short form includes a condensed version of the case name followed by the reporter volume, reporter abbreviation, and the initial page or “at” followed by the pincite to the Southern Reporter.

One party’s name,•reporter volume•reporter abbreviation•initial page. (This is proper if no pincite is needed.)

One party’s name,•reporter volume•reporter abbreviation•at•pincite.

Example of short form citation to any published Louisiana appellate court decision:

Campbell, 828 So. 2d 170. (This is proper if no pincite is necessary.)

Smith, 802 So. 2d at 990.

Rule 1.5 Citations to Unpublished Louisiana Cases

1.5(a) Full Citations

Full citations to unpublished cases of the Louisiana appellate courts basically follow the public-domain-citation form set forth in the section 8 rule, but without the parallel citation to the Southern Reporter. Instead, append the database identifier citation to the end of the citation (where the parallel citation to the Southern Reporter would normally be). “Unpublished” means that the case will not appear in a print reporter because it was not designated for publication.

Case name,•docket number,•p.•pincite to slip opinion if necessary•(court and complete date),•database identifier,•at•*pincite to database identifier if necessary,•subsequent history if applicable.

Example of full citation to unpublished Louisiana case:

Beck v. Cox, 14-256, p. 2 (La. App. 1st Cir. 9/25/14), 2014 WL 4783404, at *1.

Beck v. Cox, 14-256, p. 2 (La. App. 1st Cir. 9/25/14), 2014 La. App. Unpub. LEXIS 540, at *2.

Sidebar 1.8 Unpublished decisions usually contain a caption that indicates its unpublished status, such as “UNPUBLISHED OPINION. CHECK COURT RULES BEFORE CITING” or “NOT DESIGNATED FOR PUBLICATION.” The slip opinion page number is not always accurately indicated by the commercial database. The best way to obtain the correct slip opinion page number is to search for the pdf of the opinion on the issuing court’s website.

1.5(b) Short Form Citations

A short form citation to an unpublished case of the Louisiana appellate courts includes id. if id. is appropriate as a short form. If id. is not appropriate, then the proper short form includes the first party’s name and the database identifier. Similar to citations to slip opinions, there is no need to include the initial page of the database identifier publication in the citation because the initial page will always be page one. If a pincite to the database identifier publication is necessary, include it after the database identifier as indicated in the subsequent examples.

One party’s name,•database identifier. (This is proper if no pincite is necessary.)

One party’s name,•database identifier,•at•*pincite.

Examples of short form citation to unpublished decision:

Beck, 2014 WL 4783404. (This is proper if no pincite is necessary.)

Beck, 2014 WL 4783404, at *6.

Beck, 2014 La. App. Unpub. LEXIS 540, at *6.

Of course, use id. as the short form citation if it is appropriate.

Rule 1.6 Citations to Cases Not Yet Published

Opinions that are designated for publication are not immediately published in a print reporter. These opinions are not treated as “unpublished” opinions; instead, they are opinions that are “not yet published” and have special citation rules until the time that they are published in the print reporter. These opinions are usually accompanied by a notice such as “NOTICE: THIS OPINION HAS NOT BEEN RELEASED FOR PUBLICATION IN THE PERMANENT LAW REPORTS. UNTIL RELEASED, IT IS SUBJECT TO REVISION OR WITHDRAWAL.” Until these opinions are published in a print reporter, cite to them according to the following rules.

1.6(a) Full Citations

For full citations to cases that have not YET been published in the Southern Reporter, follow the public-domain-citation form with the following exceptions:

- (i) Replace the reporter volume and initial page number with blank lines; and
- (ii) Append a citation to the database identifier to the end of the citation.

Case Name, •docket number•(court-and-date parenthetical with month/date/last two digits of year), •____•reporter abbreviation•____, •database identifier, •subsequent history if applicable.

Include pincites to the slip opinion and the database identifier when necessary.

Examples of full citation to Louisiana cases yet to be published:

Orleans Par. Sch. Bd. v. Quatrevaux, 13-1653 (La. App. 4th Cir. 11/7/14), ____So. 3d____, 2014 La. App. Unpub. LEXIS 651.

Brown v. The Times-Picayune, L.L.C., 14-160, p. 6 (La. App. 1st Cir. 11/3/14), ____So. 3d____, 2014 WL 5560932, at *3.

1.6(b) Short Form Citations

For short form citations to cases that have yet to be published, include the following, including a pincite when necessary:

First party's name, • _____ • reporter abbreviation • _____, • database identifier.
(This is proper if no pincite is necessary.)

First party's name, • _____ • reporter abbreviation • at • _____, • database identifier, • at • *pincite to database identifier.

Examples of short form citation to Louisiana cases yet to be published:

Orleans Par. Sch. Bd., _____ So. 3d _____, 2014 La. App. Unpub. LEXIS 651.

Brown, _____ So. 3d at _____, 2014 WL 5560932, at *2.

Rule 1.7 Citations to Published Cases of the Federal Courts

Citations to federal cases, if they are published, include the following:

Case name, • reporter volume • reporter abbreviation • initial page number, • pincite if necessary • (court and year), • subsequent history if applicable.

Examples of full citations to federal court decisions:

Haywood v. Drown, 556 U.S. 729, 732, 129 S. Ct. 2108, 2112, 173 L. Ed. 2d 920, 926 (2009).

Orlando Residence, Ltd. v. GP Credit Co., 553 F.3d 550 (7th Cir. 2009).

Ball v. LeBlanc, 988 F. Supp. 2d 639, 641 (M.D. La. 2013).

Sidebar 1.9 Louisiana Uniform Rules of the Courts of Appeal 2-12.4(B)(2) recommends parallel citations to the Supreme Court and Lawyers' Edition Reporters. This is inconsistent with The Bluebook and ALWD; however, as it is recommended by a court rule, parallel citations to Supreme Court decisions are included in Louisiana court documents.

Rule 1.8 Citations to Unpublished Decisions of the Federal Courts

1.8(a) Full Citations

Full citations to unpublished federal court cases include the following:

Case Name,•docket number preceded by No.,•database identifier components•(court-and-date parenthetical),•subsequent history if applicable. (This is proper if no pincite is necessary.)

Case Name,•docket number preceded by No.,•database identifier components,•at*•pincite to database identifier if necessary•(court-and-date parenthetical),•subsequent history if applicable.

Examples of full citation to unpublished decision of a federal court:

Mitchell v. Lucas, No. 03-2646, 2004 WL 1774616 (E.D. La. Aug. 5, 2004).

Mitchell v. Lucas, No. 03-2646, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15518 (E.D. La. Aug. 5, 2004).

Mitchell v. Lucas, No. 03-2646, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15518, at *6 (E.D. La. Aug. 5, 2004).

Sidebar 1.10 The way that the docket number is reflected in a citation to an unpublished decision of a federal court differs from the way that it is reflected in a Louisiana-public-domain-format citation. The difference is that with the federal court docket number, the docket number is preceded with “No.” See Bluebook rule 10.8.1 and ALWD rule 12.14 for more information on citing to unpublished cases.

The reflection of the pincite also differs between citations to unpublished federal cases and to cases that must be cited in the Louisiana-public-domain format. In a citation to an unpublished federal case, the pincite is only to the database identifier publication, and it follows an asterisk.

The date format is also different. In a citation to an unpublished federal case, the date appears in the abbreviated month, date, and four-digit year format.

1.8(b) Short Form Citation

Short form citations to unpublished federal court cases include the following:

First party's name•database identifier components. (This is proper if no pincite is necessary.)

First party's name•database identifier components,•at•*pincite.

Examples of short form citation to unpublished federal court case:

Mitchell, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15518.

Mitchell, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15518, at *5.

Rule 1.9 Citations to Rehearing Opinions

When a rehearing has been granted, the rehearing opinion is often appended to the end of the original opinion. When this occurs, the volume and initial page number of the citation to the original opinion will be the same as the citation to the rehearing opinion. If you are citing to a portion of the rehearing opinion, you should indicate the rehearing nature of the opinion parenthetically, at the end of the citation. If the year of the rehearing opinion differs from the year of the original opinion and you are citing to the rehearing opinion, use the rehearing year in the court-and-date parenthetical. Use a pincite to identify where in the opinion the reader can find the cited proposition. Finally, in a short form citation to the rehearing opinion, if id. is not an option, you should follow the short form citation with a parenthetical indicating the rehearing nature of the opinion.

Examples of full citation to rehearing opinion:

Saucier v. Hayes Dairy Prods., Inc., 373 So. 2d 102 (La. 1979) (on rehearing). (This example reflects a full citation to the rehearing opinion where a pincite is not needed.)

Saucier v. Hayes Dairy Prods., Inc., 373 So. 2d 102, 118 (La. 1979) (on rehearing). (This example reflects a full citation to the rehearing opinion with a pincite to a particular aspect of the rehearing opinion.)

Examples of short form citation to rehearing opinion:

Id. at 119. (This example is appropriate if the immediately preceding citation was to the rehearing opinion of the Saucier case.)

Id. at 116 (on rehearing). (This example is appropriate if the immediately preceding citation was to the original opinion of the Saucier case.)

Saucier, 373 So. 2d at 118 (on rehearing). (This example is appropriate if the immediately preceding citation was to a different authority.)

RULE 2: LOUISIANA CONSTITUTION OF 1974

A full citation to the Louisiana Constitution of 1974 consists of the following:

La. • Const. • art. • article number, • § • section number.

Example of full citation to the Louisiana Constitution:

La. Const. art. III, § 1.

Sidebar 2.1 Pursuant to the most popular court custom, use Roman numerals for the article number. However, some judges use Arabic numbers to reference the article number. Arabic numbers are used for the section number. This practitioner rule format comports with The Bluebook and ALWD.

RULE 3: LOUISIANA CODAL PROVISIONS

Rule 3.1 General Format of Full Citations to Louisiana Codal Provisions

A full citation in a citation sentence to any of the Louisiana codes consists of the following:

La. • codal source abbreviation • art. • article number.

Sidebar 3.1 These citation formats and abbreviations for Louisiana codal provisions are basically rooted in court custom, although the custom may vary by particular judge and court, as well as in published or unpublished opinions. Pursuant to Louisiana court custom, and contrary to the SCM, The Bluebook, and ALWD, there is no publisher or year parenthetical in a citation to a Louisiana codal provision. Accordingly, it is irrelevant, for citation purposes, that West publishes the official version of the Louisiana codes.

Rule 3.2 Source Abbreviations

Use the following abbreviations for the different Louisiana codes when cited in a citation sentence.

3.2(a) Louisiana Civil Code

La. •Civ. •Code

3.2(b) Louisiana Code of Civil Procedure

La. •Code •Civ. •Proc.

3.2(c) Louisiana Code of Evidence

La. •Code •Evid.

3.2(d) Louisiana Code of Criminal Procedure

La. •Code •Crim. •Proc.

3.2(e) Louisiana Children’s Code

La. •Ch. •Code

Examples of Louisiana code source provisions:

La. Civ. Code art. 2315.6.

La. Code Civ. Proc. art. 925.

La. Code Evid. art. 406.

La. Code Crim. Proc. art. 1314.

La. Ch. Code art. 665.

In a textual reference, Louisiana and the identity of the codal source may NOT be abbreviated.

Sidebar 3.2 Louisiana court custom varies and also utilizes the forms “LSA-C.C. art.” and “La. C.C. art.” for a citation to a Civil Code article. It additionally includes the forms “LSA-C.C.P. art.” and “La. C.C.P. art.” for the Code of Civil Procedure. The Bluebook and ALWD use the same abbreviations set forth above for all but the Children’s Code, except that these citation manuals require “Ann.” to be inserted after the code reference. The SCM addresses abbreviations for the Civil Code and the Code of Civil Procedure, which abbreviations are consistent with those set forth in this practitioner rule.

Rule 3.3 Reference to codal provision

In a full citation to a Louisiana codal provision, whether in a textual reference or in a citation sentence, the “a” in art. is not capitalized. Article is abbreviated to “art.” in a textual reference (unless it begins the sentence) and in a citation sentence.

Sidebar 3.3 Pursuant to widely accepted court custom, article is abbreviated to art. in a textual reference to a codal provision.

Rule 3.4 Short Form Citations to Louisiana Codal Provisions

Id. is the preferred short form citation if the current citation is to the same authority that is referenced in the immediately preceding citation. If id. is not a viable option, the short form citation to a Louisiana codal provision is basically the same as the full form citation because court custom does not include a year component in the full form citation. Alternatively, where there is NO possibility of confusion with another codal source, a short form citation may consist of “art.” followed by the article number. This particular short form may be used even if, for the first time, a different article of the particular code is being cited. This option is not proper if different codes have been cited in the document.

When this alternative short form option is used, the “a” in art. is capitalized if used in a citation sentence because it begins the citation sentence. Conversely, the “a” in art. is not capitalized in a textual reference unless the textual reference is also the first word in the textual sentence, in which situation article is not abbreviated.

Examples of short form citations to Louisiana Civil Code where previously cited to Louisiana Civil Code art. 2315:

Id. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to art. 2315.)

Id. art. 2317. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to art. 2315 and the current citation is to art. 2317 of the Louisiana Civil Code.)

La. Civ. Code art. 2315.

Art. 2315. (This is proper if it is in a citation sentence and no other code is cited in the document.)

Article 2315 (This is proper if it is the start of a textual reference and no other code is cited in the document.)

art. 2315 (This is proper if it is a textual reference that does not begin the sentence and no other code is cited in the document.)

Rule 3.5 Citations to Comments to Louisiana Codal Provisions

When citing to a codal provision’s official comments, the form depends on whether the citation is in a citation sentence or textual reference form. A full citation to a comment should comprise the following parts; however, because the order of the information can vary as depicted below, pick one and be consistent. When using a textual reference, avoid the abbreviations (other than “art.”).

Comment ID—year•(pincite)•to•codal source abbreviation•art.•article number.

Codal source abbreviation•art.•article number,•Comment ID—year•(pincite).

3.5(a) Comment ID

Comment ID refers to the phrase that introduces the comment(s) to the cited codal provision. Examples can include: La. Official. Revision Comments, Official Revision Comments, Comments, Revision Comment, Revision Comments, etc. Use the comment ID that introduces the comment in the accessed source for the codal provision.

3.5(b) Year

Year refers to the year that the year that is associated with the referenced comment(s). Separate the Comment ID from the year with an em dash (the longer dash that is neither preceded nor followed by a space).

3.5(c) Pincite

Pincite refers to the letter, typically lowercased, that is associated with the referenced comment(s). Place the pincite in parentheses.

3.5(d) Reference to Codal Provision

When referring to the codal provision, use the LPRC abbreviation for the referenced code. Use “art.” to introduce the referenced article. Follow “art.” with a space and the numeral(s) for the referenced article.

Examples of full citations to the Official Revision Comments in citation sentence form:

La. Official Revision Comments—1960 (c) to La. Code Civ. Proc. art. 853.

Official Revision Comments—1960 (d) to La. Code Civ. Proc. art. 853.

La. Code Civ. Proc. art. 853, Official Revision Comments—1960 (d).

La. Code Civ. Proc. art. 853, Comments--2018

Examples of full citations to the Official Revision Comments in textual reference form:

Official Revision Comments—1960 (d) to Louisiana Code of Civil Procedure art. 853 provides . . . .

Louisiana Code of Civil Procedure art. 853’s Official Revision Comments—1960 (d) provides . . . .

RULE 4: LOUISIANA REVISED STATUTES

Rule 4.1 General Format of Full Citations to Louisiana Revised Statutes

The full citation in a citation sentence to the Louisiana Revised Statutes consists of the following:

La. •R.S. •title:section.

Example of full citation to the Louisiana Revised Statutes in a citation sentence:

La. R.S. 23:966.

Sidebar 4.1 Note that Louisiana court custom does NOT use a publisher or year parenthetical in a citation to the Louisiana Revised Statutes. Accordingly, for citation purposes, it is irrelevant that West publishes the official version of the Louisiana statutes.

Rule 4.2 Source Abbreviation

The abbreviation “La. R.S.” is used to refer to the Louisiana Revised Statutes in a citation sentence.

Sidebar 4.2 The source of this abbreviation is court custom, although it too varies and can include “LSA-R.S.” or “La. Rev. Stat.” The SCM and The Bluebook, both regarding citations in academic documents, use “LA. STAT. ANN. §” as the source abbreviation. The ALWD form is “La. Stat. Ann. §.” Interestingly, these citation sources introduce the title with a section symbol, yet they still require the 9:315 format (title:section) for the relevant statutory provision in the citation.

Rule 4.3 Title and Section References

The title and section numbers are separated by a colon and no spaces. Where the citation is to a particular subsection of a particular revised statute, the subsection is indicated parenthetically, without intervening spaces, and it utilizes the capitalization of the subsection that appeared in the statute.

Examples of title and section reference (note that these examples are of only the title and section reference part of a full citation to the Revised Statutes):

23:966(A)(1)

Sidebar 4.3 Note that there is NO section symbol in a citation to the Louisiana Revised Statutes pursuant to these practitioner rules. This is based on court custom and common sense since the first number reflects the title in a Louisiana statutory provision. Both The Bluebook and ALWD would require a section symbol to follow the source abbreviation.

Rule 4.4 Textual References to Louisiana Revised Statutes

In a textual reference to the Louisiana Revised Statutes, there is no source abbreviation. Thus, Louisiana Revised Statutes may not be abbreviated in a textual reference, and Louisiana Revised Statutes is the proper reference. Notice that statutes is plural, even if the citation is to one particular statute instead of multiple statutes.

Examples of textual references to the Louisiana Revised Statutes:

Louisiana Revised Statutes 23:966(B) limits the term “smoker,” as used in the statute, to “a person who smokes tobacco.”

INCORRECT: Louisiana Revised Statute 23:966(D) mandates monetary fines for violators.

Rule 4.5 Short Form Citations to Louisiana Revised Statutes

Id. is the preferred short form citation to the Louisiana Revised Statutes. Even if the citation is to a different title:section of the Revised Statutes, the format, “Id. title:section” may be used provided the immediately preceding citation was to the Louisiana Revised Statutes. Where id. is not appropriate, the short form is the same as the full form, or it may simply include “R.S. title:section.” Additionally, once a particular statute has been cited in a document, subsequent references to a different title and/or section of the Louisiana Revised Statutes may simply include “R.S. title:section” unless confusion would occur.

Examples of short form citations to Louisiana Revised Statutes:

Id. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to La. R.S. 23:966.)

Id. 23:966(C). (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to La. R.S. 23:966 but not to subsection (C).)

Id. 23:967. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to La. R.S. 23:966.)

Id. 9:315. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to La. R.S. 23:966.)

R.S. 23:966.

R.S. 23:967.

RULE 5: LOUISIANA CIVIL LAW TREATISE

Rule 5.1 General Format of Full Citations to Louisiana Civil Law Treatise

Author, • Treatise Topic, • in • volume # • Louisiana Civil Law Treatise • § • section number, • pin cite to page number(s) • (# of ed. • ed. • year).

Example of full citation to Louisiana Civil Law Treatise:

Frank L. Maraist, Civil Procedure, in 1 Louisiana Civil Law Treatise § 6:9, 212 (2d ed. 2008).

Sidebar 5.1 There is very little, if any, consistency among the court custom, SCM, The Bluebook, and ALWD regarding citing to the Louisiana Civil Law Treatise, which is a collection of works by multiple authors. All of these sources include the same components; however, the order of those components in the citation and the emphasis used varies greatly among the sources. Below are examples of how each of these sources would cite to a work in the Louisiana Civil Law Treatise. The court custom approach appears to follow the general approach for books that are a part of a multi-volume work by a single author, meaning the same person or people author all volumes of the multi-volume work. There is a more specific citation rule when dealing with books that are a collection of works by different authors. This practitioner rule adopts the ALWD approach.

Rule 5.2 Short Form Citations to Louisiana Civil Law Treatise

5.2(a) Where id. is Appropriate

Id. (This is proper if everything is the same as the immediately preceding citation.)

Id.•§•section number•at•page #. (This is proper if the section and page number changed)

Examples of short form citation to Louisiana Civil Law Treatise where id. is appropriate:

Id.

Id. at 219.

Id. § 6:10 at 221.

5.2(b) Where id. is Not Appropriate

Author's last name,•supra,•at•page number.

Examples of short form citation to Louisiana Civil Law Treatise where id. is not appropriate:

Maraist, supra, at 214. (This is proper if the page number is in a section that previously has been cited in the document.)

Maraist, supra, § 6:8 at 206. (This is proper if the section previously has not been cited in the document.)

RULE 6: LOUISIANA LAW REVIEWS AND JOURNALS

Rule 6.1 General Citation Format

Author, •Title of Article•vol. # of publication•abbreviation of publication•initial page number•pincite to page number(s)•(year of publication).

Examples of full citation to Louisiana law reviews and journals:

J.E. Stockwell, Preventing Depression, Burnout and Stress in the Legal Profession, 59 La. B.J. 103, 103 (2011).

Sandi S. Varnado, Your Digital Footprint Left Behind at Death: An Illustration of Technology Leaving the Law Behind, 74 La. L. Rev. 719, 733 (2014).

Rule 6.2 Source Abbreviations

Use the following abbreviations for Louisiana-based law reviews and bar journals:

6.2(a) Louisiana Bar Journal

La. B.J.

6.2(b) Louisiana Law Review

La. L. Rev.

6.2(c) LSU Journal of Energy Law and Resources

La. St. U. J. Energy L. & Resources

6.2(d) Loyola Law Review

Loy. L. Rev.

6.2(e) Southern University Law Review

S.U. L. Rev.

6.2(f) Tulane Law Review

Tul. L. Rev.

Sidebar 6.1 The Louisiana law schools have other law reviews and journals. See Bluebook Table 13 or ALWD Appendix 5 for these abbreviations.

Rule 6.3 Short Form Citations

6.3(a) Where id. is Appropriate

Id. at page #.

Example of short form citation to a Louisiana law review or journal where id. is appropriate:

Id. at 735.

6.3(b) Where id. is Not Appropriate

Author's last name, supra, at page(s) of cited authority.

Example of short form citation to a Louisiana law review or journal where id. is not appropriate:

Stockwell, supra, at 104-05.

Sidebar 6.2 The short form citation used in practitioner rule 6.3(b) is based on ALWD. The Bluebook does not address this scenario in the Bluepages. The Bluebook rule for citations to legal and other periodicals in academic documents would reference the footnote number in the short citation instead of the page number, but practitioner documents do not usually use footnotes, so The Bluebook rule is not adopted by this practitioner rule.

RULE 7: LOUISIANA STATE BAR RULES OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Rule 7.1 General Citation Format

La. Rules of Prof'l Conduct R. rule number

Examples of full citation to Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct in a citation sentence:

La. Rules of Prof'l Conduct R. 1.5.

La. Rules of Prof'l Conduct R. 1.5(e).

Rule 7.2 Abbreviation

The abbreviation “La. Rules of Prof'l Conduct” is used to refer to the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct in a citation sentence.

Sidebar 7.1 The sources of this abbreviation are The Bluebook and ALWD. Louisiana court custom does not reflect a routinely used citation form for the rules of professional conduct.

Rule 7.3 Textual References to Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct

In a textual reference to the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct, there should be no abbreviations.

Example of textual reference to the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct:

Rule 1.5(a) of the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct sets forth factors to be considered in determining if an attorney's fee is reasonable.

Rule 7.4 Short Form Citations to Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct

When appropriate, id. is the preferred short form citation to the Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct. If the citation is to a different rule or subsection of the rule, “Id. Rule ___” may be used provided the immediately preceding citation was also to a rule of professional conduct. Where id. is not appropriate, the short form is the same as the full form, or it may simply include “Rule” before the rule number, provided that no other codes containing rules have been cited in the document.

Examples of short form citations to Louisiana Rules of Professional Conduct

Id. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to La. Rules of Prof'l Conduct R. 1.5(e).)

Id. Rule 1.5(a). (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to La. Rules of Prof'l Conduct R. 1.5(e).)

Id. Rule 1.4. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to La. Rules of Prof'l Conduct R. 1.5(e).)

La. Rules of Prof'l Conduct R. 1.5(e).

Rule 1.5(a). (This is proper if the immediately preceding cite was to a different authority, making id. inappropriate, and no other codes containing rules have been cited in the document.)

RULE 8: LOUISIANA ADMINISTRATIVE CODE

Rule 8.1 General Format of Full Citations to the Louisiana Administrative Code

The full citation in a citation sentence or clause to the Louisiana Administrative Code consists of the following:

LAC•title:part.section.

Example of full citation to the Louisiana Administrative Code in a citation sentence:

LAC 33:V.105(D)(1).

Sidebar 8.1 This format reflects the preferred citation format expressed in Louisiana Administrative Code 1:I.103(A). Note that neither this provision nor Louisiana court custom uses a publisher or year parenthetical in a citation to the Louisiana Administrative Code. Accordingly, for citation purposes, if a version other than the current version is being cited, the year of the version should be indicated substantively or parenthetically.

Rule 8.2 Source Abbreviation

Use the abbreviation “LAC” to refer to the Louisiana Administrative Code in a citation or clause.

Sidebar 8.2 Using “La. Admin. Code” as an abbreviation is also supported by some court custom. The Bluebook, regarding citations in academic documents, uses “LA. ADMIN. CODE” as the source abbreviation, but large and small cap fonts are atypical in court documents.

Rule 8.3 Title, Part, and Section References

Use a colon and no space between the title and part of the citation. Use a period and no space to separate the part from the section. Where the citation is to a particular subsection of a particular code section, the subsection is indicated parenthetically, without intervening spaces, and it utilizes the capitalization or number style of the subsection that appeared in the Administrative Code.

Examples of title, part, and section reference (note that these examples are of only the title, part, and section references in a full citation to the Administrative Code):

46:LXVII.901

46:LXVII.901(D)

Sidebar 8.3 Note that there is NO section symbol in a citation to the Louisiana Administrative Code pursuant to these practitioner rules. This is based on the previously referenced citation preference within the Administrative Code and the lack of clear court custom when referring to the title, part, and section in citations. Rather than just indicating the title, part, and section by number or letter, some judges abbreviate “title” to “tit.” or “Tit.” and “part” to “pt.” or “Pt.” Some abbreviate “section” to “sec.” or “Sec.”; still others use the section symbol to introduce the section. The Bluebook requires “tit.” But, it makes no reference to the “part,” and it requires the section symbol to introduce the section. The Bluebook would also require including the year, which goes against the expressed citation preference and court custom.

Rule 8.4 Textual References to the Louisiana Administrative Code

Avoid abbreviations in a textual reference to the Louisiana Administrative Code. Instead, use “Louisiana Administrative Code” as the source reference. Then, simply insert the title:part:section information. When opening the textual reference with a title, part, or section instead of the code name, insert the words “title,” “part,” or “section” before the respective number or letter, distinguishing among them using commas. Be consistent in the capitalization and abbreviation use of title, part, and section.

Examples of textual references to the Louisiana Administrative Code:

Louisiana Administrative Code 1.I.103 addresses the preferred citation format to the Administrative Code.

Part I, section 103 of title 1 of the Louisiana Administrative Code provides a preferred citation format to the Code.

INCORRECT: Part I, sec. 103 of Title 1 of the LAC provides a preferred citation format to the Code.

Sidebar 8.4 Court custom varies on content of textual references to Administrative Code provisions that open with the code name.

Some judges write out title, part, and section in a textual reference. Ex. “Louisiana Administrative Code Title 46, Part LXVII, Section 101 provides . . . .”

Others write out title and part but use either a section symbol for section. Ex. “Louisiana Administrative Code title 46, part LXVII, § 101 provides . . . .”

Others abbreviate title, part, and section. Ex. “Pursuant to Louisiana Administrative Code Tit. 46, Pt. LXVII, Sec. 101, violating the rules invites disciplinary action.”

Capitalization of title, part and section also varies among judges.

Considering these variances in textual reference content, simply using the numbers and letters to reflect the title, part, and section is the most efficient way to refer to a Louisiana Administrative Code provision in a textual sentence.

Rule 8.5 Short Form Citations to the Louisiana Administrative Code

Id. is the preferred short form citation to the Louisiana Administrative Code. Even if the citation is to a different title:part.section of the Administrative Code, the format, “Id. title:part.section” may be used provided the immediately preceding citation was to the Louisiana Administrative Code. If only the part or section changed since the immediately preceding citation, the “Id.” replaces only the LAC part of the cite; the title:part.section content (but using the new part and/or section) must be repeated in the short cite.

Where id. is not appropriate, the short form is the same as the full form. Additionally, once a particular Administrative Code provision has been cited in a document, subsequent textual references to a different section of the same title and part of the Louisiana Administrative Code may simply include “section X” unless confusion with other previously cited titles and parts of cited sources would occur. Thus, use this option ONLY when all cites in the document are to the same title and part of the Administrative Code and when the only other sources cited in the document are cases.

Examples of short form citations to the Louisiana Administrative Code (assume that “LAC 33:V.105” was previously cited to in the document that contains these examples):

Id. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to LAC 33:V.105.)

Id. 33:V.105(D). (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to LAC 33:V.105 but not to subsection (D).)

Id. 33:V.104. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to LAC 33:V.105—meaning the only thing that changed was the section number.)

Id. 33:IX.109. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to LAC 33:V.105.)

Id. 7:III.303. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to LAC 33:V.105.)

LAC 33:V.105. (This is proper if the immediately preceding citation was to a source other than a Louisiana Administrative Code provision.)

Section 106 provides . . . . (This is proper as a textual reference if all prior citations have been to cases AND to the same title and part of the Louisiana Administrative Code that contains section 106.)
